

Charge of "Misrule" Rouses Councilman

J. R. Hall Defends Borough
Administration at Council Meeting

CHAMBER WAS PACKED

The regular meeting of the Narberth Borough Council on Monday night was enlivened by the presence of over fifty residents, the largest delegation to attend a meeting in years.

A desire for lower taxes ostensibly was the reason for the assemblage which filled every available seat in the Council Chamber in Elm Hall and overflowed into the hallway. A. E. Wohler, agitator for a fifty per cent. reduction in the Borough tax rate, was there and reiterated his views. Other residents, it seemed, were satisfied that Council would do all that could be done in the matter of tax cuts and expressed their confidence in the Borough's governing body. Still others exhibited a woeful lack of knowledge of how assessments for Narberth are made, seeming to be of the opinion that Council fixed them.

The meeting proceeded good humoredly and with decorum until Mr. Wohler, who had stated that "a cut of 50 per cent. would be about right," asserted that "we have had 12 years of misrule and it is about time you (Council) gave us respectful consideration." This charge roused the ire of Councilman John R. Hall, who rose in his place to defend the Borough administration. He first read from the report of the Citizens' Merger Committee, which commended Council for its efficient and businesslike handling of the Borough's affairs. He

Rev. Harry Chalfant Dies of Pneumonia

Temperance Leader Stricken While Campaigning in Western Penna.

FUNERAL NOVEMBER 12

Funeral services for the Rev. Harry M. Chalfant, for 18 years a resident of Narberth, were held last Saturday in the First Methodist Episcopal Church, of Washington, Pa. Dr. Chalfant died last Thursday night at Washington of pneumonia, contracted while campaigning for the re-election of two dry members of Congress in Western Pennsylvania. He was 63.

Born in Washington County, Pa., June 26, 1869, one of a family of six sons, Harry Malcolm Chalfant was a graduate of California (Pa.) State Normal School and Washington and Jefferson College, which conferred the degree of doctor of divinity on him in 1922. As a youth he was attracted to journalism, writing for the paper published in his college town and continuing this work after graduation.

He first came under the spell of the Temperance movement as a boy of eighteen when he heard John B. Finch deliver an address at his school. Believing the ministry would provide greater opportunity for temperance work, he was ordained as a Methodist minister in 1893. He served a number of pastorates in the vicinity of Pittsburgh until 1909, when he became editor of the Keystone Citizen. The following year he became editor of the Pennsylvania edition of "The American Issue," Anti-Saloon League publication in this State. This post he held until his appointment early this year as a district superintendent of the League, in charge of its southwest district with offices in Washington, Pa.

Dr. Chalfant was the author of a number of books on temperance, among them being "Father Penn and John Barleycorn," "These Agitators and Their Idea," and a play, "Paying the Fiddler."

One of the outstanding temperance leaders in the State, Dr. Chalfant always exhibited a strong interest in political affairs where wet and dry issues were involved. He often debated on the prohibition question and upheld the dry stand in a debate a few years ago held at Lower Merion

Bucknell's President to Speak in Borough

Dr. Homer P. Rainey to Address
Community Service This Sunday

IN THE BAPTIST CHURCH

Dr. Homer Price Rainey, president of Bucknell University, will be the speaker at the second community service to be held this Sunday evening at 7.45 in the Narberth Baptist Church.

The first service of this series, held last month, was addressed by Dr. Joseph Fort Newton and was attended by a large gathering.

Thirty-seven years old, Dr. Rainey is one of the youngest college presidents in the country, having taken over the reins at Bucknell last year. A graduate of Austin College, Sherman, Texas, Dr. Rainey forsook a big league baseball career to enter the academic field. After pitching for four years on his varsity nine, he was signed by the Texas-Oklahoma League upon graduation. His performance was so full of promise that he became the property of the Houston club and was due to go up to the big leagues the next year.

After casting his lot for an academic career, he went back to college, taking graduate work at the University of Chicago, where he obtained his doctor's degree. After three years of teaching at the University of Oregon he became president of Franklin College in Indiana in 1927. This post he held until going to Bucknell.

Dr. Rainey is about medium height, with large deep set eyes and does not look like a pedagogue. He is married (to a Texas University co-ed) and has two daughters.

Explorer to Speak at Men's Association Tuesday

The November meeting of the James C. Simpson Men's Association will be held in the Narberth Baptist Church on Tuesday, at eight P. M.

The guest speaker will be Albert L. Douglas, explorer and world-traveler, who will present his own motion pictures of "Wild Life in South Africa." Mr. Douglas has a great number of entertaining action-reels, and will also have with him some of his trophies of the hunt taken from his large personal collections. This illustrated talk should appeal most strongly to all lovers of the chase.

The continued October meeting will be resumed on this date for the election of officers and appointment of committees. All members are urged to be present.

St. Margaret's Dance Tonight
The Sodality of St. Margaret's Church, Narberth, will give their annual card party and dance this Friday night at eight o'clock at St. Matthias' Hall, Bryn Mawr and Highland avenues, Bala. Tickets may be secured from any member or at the door. All are welcome.

Lower Merion and Radnor to Meet at Villanova Stadium Tomorrow

Stage Set for Annual Main Line Football Classic, Thirty-
Third in Series; Radnor Won
Last Year 14-0

By L. B. FOWLER
Villanova Stadium will be the battleground of the annual Lower Merion-Radnor football game tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock, and the thousands of spectators who will throng the stadium long before the opening kickoff will lend color to one of the high school football classics of America.

This will be the thirty-third meeting between these arch rivals and as the years roll by past scores are forgotten; it's only "today's" game that counts. As twilight shadows steal across the rolling Villanova fields tomorrow there will be many hearts that are joyful and as many more that are genuinely sad, for this annual scrap is more than a football game; it is a tradition, an institution, and the many thousands of homes from Overbrook to Paoli will burn the midnight oil in celebrations or post mortems.

Merion Title's Assets Appraised At Three Million, Account Shows

Report, in Five Volumes, Indicates Expenses of Liquidation
Have Totaled $104,000 and Income
Realized Totals $73,461

Total assets of the Merion Title and Trust Company, of Ardmore, amount to $3,049,020.42, as of August 31, 1932, according to the first and partial account of Dr. William D. Gordon, Secretary of Banking, which was filed last Saturday with the Prothonotary of Montgomery County at Norristown by Frank Glatfelder, special deputy as agent.

This figure compares with the total appraised value of assets of $4,677,999.07 as listed in the Banking Department's inventory as of October 27, 1931, the date of the bank's closing.

After deducting preferred claims amounting to $106,010.89, which are unpaid, there remain assets totaling $2,943,009.53 for eventual distribution to the approximately 20,000 depositors.

The account, which is contained in five volumes of closely typewritten material covering a total of 2500 pages, includes a complete list of depositors and their claims, a schedule of receipts and disbursements from October 27, 1931 to August 31, 1932, and an inventory and appraisal.

A summary of the inventory, as taken from the account, contrasts the appraised value of the bank's assets as of October 27, 1931, and August 31, 1932, as follows:

Juniors Anticipating Fall Dance the 26th

Specialty Dance to be a Feature of Festive Affair Next Week

LEGION ROOM IS SCENE

Just a week from tomorrow night, on November 26th, the Legion Hall in Narberth will be the scene of gay festivity, as the Junior Community Club sponsors its first big affair of the season, its Fall Dance.

A good orchestra; harmless, but delightful punch, and a specialty dance are the high spots of an evening which many young couples are counting upon with great enthusiasm. Ever since the dance last Spring, which was such a rousing success, every Junior has been looking forward to the next one, and those who missed last year's affair, but have heard about it so enviously, are sure to be on hand this time.

Several members are bringing out of town guests, and there is to be some entertaining done both before and after the dance by different groups who have learned that this makes a delightful opportunity for a hostess to supply her dinner guests with a good time that is desirably different from the usual evening of bridge or other games.

The specialty dance number will be performed by one of the Junior Club's newest members, Mrs. J. Milton Kent, a charming young matron

Organized Opposition to Merger Develops

Committee to Circulate Counter
Petitions Among Boro
Residents

EDGAR IS CHAIRMAN

A movement in opposition to the proposed merger of Narberth with Lower Merion Township was inaugurated at a meeting Wednesday night held in the Legion room of the Community Building, attended by over fifty citizens.

The group, known as the Narberth Borough Citizens' Committee, elected Robert J. Edgar, of 632 Montgomery avenue, permanent chairman. Two sub-committees, of three persons each, were appointed to gather facts and figures on both the Borough and School district with the intention of showing that the proposed merger would not effect the saving to taxpayers that its advocates claim.

The committee will also prepare petitions of two types for circulation. One will be for signatures of property owners of the Borough who are opposed to the merger and for taxable inhabitants of a like mind. The other type will be for the signatures of those residents who have signed the merger petition but who, in view of the evidence which the Borough Citizens' Committee will prepare, may undergo a change of mind regarding the merger.

Members of the sub-committee which will investigate the Borough end are T. Noel Butler, F. Richard Gifford and Mrs. E. W. Crookes. Members of the School Committee are C. C. Tyson, Jesse S. Harris and Mrs. E. C.

RADIO SEEN AS AID

Lillian Britt Heinsohn and Nellie Britt Tabor, garbed in the quaint costumes of the 60's, presented "Song Pictures of the Old South," at the meeting of the Women's Community Club of Narberth in the Community Building on Tuesday afternoon.

The first group of songs were three negro spirituals, among them being a particular favorite called "No Hiding Place." The second group consisted of three plantation songs, generally sung in the South by the negroes and also by a number of the white folks. These were "Nellie Blye," "Old Shortening Bread," and the ever popular old song, "A Froggie Would A Wooing Go." The third group consisted of a number of old Southern ballads, which were brought from England, and, in the 60's and for a number of years afterward, were sung on the concert stage and in the drawing room. The first was "Alice, Where Art Thou?" which was followed by Stephen Foster's "Beautiful Dreamer" and as a finale, "I Know A Bank Whereon the Wild Thyme Grows."

Adolph Vogel, speaker of the afternoon, gave a very interesting resume of the development of music since the time of Beethoven, whose music, he said is the fundamental basis of all orchestral music.

The music of the 20th century, said

Old Minute Books Give Insight Into Merion Friends' Meeting, 250 Years Old

The 250th anniversary of the Merion Friends' Meeting House, on Montgomery avenue and Meeting House lane, Narberth, was observed last Sunday.

Built in 1695, the structure was erected on the site of a meeting held by the first Friends to inhabit the section three years before. William Penn and other noted Friends worshipped at Merion in the early days.

Among those who spoke last Sunday were W. Russell Green, of Narberth; Dr. William I. Hull, professor of history at Swarthmore College; Russell Hayes, curator of the Friends' Historical Library, Swarthmore; Edward L. Parvin, of Cynwyd, and Samuel Bunting, of Overbrook.

An insight into the early history of Merion Meeting and its members is given by the following excerpts from the old minute books, now preserved in the Friends' Library at Swarthmore.

It states: "At our Preparative Meeting held at Merion Meeting house the 8th of ye 11th Month 1702, 1st, the Friends appointed to see that things be in good order among Friends, bring an account yt. they have nothing to lay before this meeting."

Over 4,000 Garments Contributed to the Narberth Branch of Needlework Guild

The annual meeting of the Narberth Branch of the Needlework Guild of America was held in the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church on Tuesday, at 2 P. M.

The lower church room presented a striking appearance as the garments and tables were attractively arranged under the direction of Mrs. Arthur G. Follette, assisted by an efficient committee, who had transformed the room into a most interesting place.

The Leisure Hour table, in charge of Mrs. C. A. McCallem, showed the results of many hours of labor during the year.

The Memorial table was filled with contributions from friends in memory of their loved ones. Mrs. Helen Baird Caldwell, Secretary of the Guild, assisted at this table.

Mrs. Robert H. Durbin, Mrs. Daniel Leitch, Miss Clara Follette and Miss Laura Brown received and tabulated over 4,000 garments contributed to and given by the 66 directors.

There was a brief business at noon followed by a most delightful luncheon served under the able supervision of Mrs. Arthur G. Compton.

The meeting was called to order

Merger Opponents Organize

A different aspect has been put on the proposed merger of the Borough with Lower Merion by the meeting of citizens held Wednesday night.

So far the mergerites have had clear sailing. They have prepared their figures, organized a large committee, split up the Borough and canvassed it at their convenience. Merger advocates have talked to citizens in the privacy of their own homes and presented their case.

So far there has been no one to say them nay. We have attempted, from time to time, to point out various aspects of the matter in the editorial columns of Our Town which have not been dealt with by the merger committee. Our chief contention has been that there are other factors in the case to consider besides the economic argument, which is the alpha and omega of the mergerites' case.

It has been known that there were many citizens opposed to the dissolution of the Borough. The meeting held at the School last Spring and the poll conducted by Our Town bear witness to that fact. But until this week nothing had been done.

Now the opponents of the merger have organized. They are proceeding about the job of blocking the proposed step by businesslike means. The Committee proposes to show that the asserted saving of $50,000 to taxpayers is not only absurd, but that there would be practically no saving at all, insofar as the Borough end of the picture goes.

We believe that there is considerable truth in this view. Consider the following facts: Narberth's present tax rate is 18 mills. This rate will be reduced two and possibly three mills for 1933, making it, say, for purposes of argument, 15 mills. The Township tax rate is 9 mills. BUT, under a merger, provision would have to be made for Narberth's bonded debt, which would amount to approximately 3 mills. Then there is a sewer tax in Lower Merion which is not collected in the Borough of Narberth. This tax for the average home in the Borough would be about $10 per year, making in aggregate another 3 mills. Nine mills tax, plus 3 mills for bonded debt, plus 3 mills for sewer tax equals 15 mills, which is the same rate Narberth will probably have for 1933. Where is the saving?

Now if the mergerites' claim of savings are nullified and if sound arguments, not just sentimental ones, are advanced in addition for the maintenance of the Borough status, the case for the Narberth Borough Citizens Committee grows apace.

Should the merger advocates secure the necessary signatures (two thirds of the taxable inhabitants of the Borough) to present their petition to the County Court, a counter petition bearing the signatures of a goodly percentage of the property owners opposed to the step would undoubtedly have much weight with the court in arriving at its decision.

The whole matter is one which should engage the serious atten-

Shreds and Patches

Artistic Dress

Mr. Stopher, corporation officer, and The Vagrant are good friends, which, in itself, is one of the strange things under the sun, considering the natural antipathy that usually exists between two such different types. Mr. Stopher says sometimes with enjoyment, "Roll us together and you would have a pretty complete man," but The Vagrant suspects that Mr. Stopher believes that to any such bodily merger he would bring the brain and backbone while The Vagrant's adipose jelly would fill in and round out the hollow places. They met an artist whom they both know on the street recently. That artist is a successful man, viewed in any light. "Why is it," said Mr. Stopher, "that a sensible man like Mr. Blank dresses like an artist? You'd think it would make him feel conspicuous."

Business Dress

Now, Blank's appearance is by no means eccentric, but he does wear a soft felt hat with a supple brim, a bow tie with slightly elongated ends, and a small beard. His hair is cut not quite so closely as business men usually shear theirs. To The Vagrant Blank's appearance is always pleasing. Evidently it was not to Mr. Stopher, and so The Vagrant impulsively felt called to defend Blank. He pointed out that to an artist's mind the prevailing styles for masculine attire are probably so stiff, awkward and standardized that the artist is positively ill at ease if he clothes himself that way, and that, therefore, his dress may not be an affectation, but a true assertion of expert personal opinion. Business men, though really not competent in such matters, have imposed their standard of appearance on themselves and every man, except the artists and Catholic and Episcopal clergymen. There was a time within The Vagrant's easy memory when differences in costume separated professional men and all clergymen, as groups, from each other and from business men. The Vagrant is inclined to think that Artist Blank is right in his independence, and he maintained that point against Mr. Stopher with all the humility that he, like all others, habitually yields to a successful business man.

Pulpitizing

Complete separation of church and state is one of the most firmly grounded principles of the American people. Hence, it has followed naturally that there is a pronounced preference for the equally complete divorce of the pulpit from politics. Both those ideas are probably Protestant in origin. Certainly, many Protestants fear the actual return of the Inquisition whenever they hear that a Catholic priest has preached on even the simplest aspects of public affairs. It has seemed to The Vagrant, therefore, that some Protestant clergymen were doing violence to a cherished and valuable Protestant tradition whenever they have discussed the present wet and dry issues from their pulpits. Pulpit advocacy of temperance in the early days when that subject was principally clothed in religious and moral implications was all right. Just as soon, however, as the attempt was made to impose prohibition by force of secular law, the subject became political. In its present phases it is entirely so, and thereby the wet and dry issues of the recent campaign were automatically debarred from discussion in those pulpits where there is a thoughtful regard for an established propriety, and for the generally accepted amenities of community life.

Mrs. Goldsmith or Mrs. Baker. A card should be attached with the article's history and owner's name. More details of this tea will be published later.

The second dance in the winter series sponsored by the Mulieres will be held in Elm Hall next Friday evening, November 25, from nine until twelve. Bill Dohard's Orchestra will play and the hostesses will be Mrs. E. C. Griswold, Mrs. Robert Bennett, Mrs. Robert J. Dohard, Mrs. E. Alburger and Mrs. Arthur Goldsmith. Guests are expected from Pottstown, Philadelphia, Penn Valley, Merion and Wynnewood. These dances are becoming very popular as the admission prices are low. There are still season tickets on sale for the coming five dances. These can be purchased at the door or by calling Narberth 3883.

The Christmas dance will be given by the younger members of the committee, and will be held on Monday, December 26.

The Mulieres are planning many activities for this winter to help finance the Fire Company, but will not call on the community-at-large until next May, when all will be asked to help.

The new members of the Executive Board were not appointed at the meeting on Monday, but the announcement will be made at the next regular meeting, on December 12, in Elm Hall, which will begin at 2 P. M.

Clothing is still requested for the barrel in front of Elm Hall which the members of the organization are repairing and distributing in Narberth. There will be no sewing meetings until after Thanksgiving and then regularly every Wednesday from 10 until 1, beginning Wednesday, November 30. Boxes of clothing will be made up for Christmas. Donations for Christmas are welcome.

Batchelor. Among those attending the meeting were members of Council and the School Board, Fire Chief Charles V. Noel, a large number of property owners and many old residents.

Much enthusiasm was evidenced at the meeting and it was generally agreed that there is another side to the proposed merger than that presented by the group favoring it. It was pointed out that two prominent members of the original Merger Committee had withdrawn from active participation and that others, whose names were given as members, had never been consulted.

"2ndly, that Friends give certificates to their servants at their freedom, according to the deserts, as the meeting formerly ordered, and those that are free thereto and think fit, to bring the said certificates to be read at Preparative Meeting."

An entry for "6th of 12th month, 1702," reads: "John Bevan having laid before this meeting his intention of going to visit friends in New England signifying his intention to lay it before the Monthly Meeting, he is left to his freedom."

In 1834, 9th month, 4th, the following is reported in the minutes: "The overseers inform that Stephen Norman has accomplished his marriage, contrary to the good order of our Society, by the assistance of an hireling preacher."

Harmony is indicated in the entry for 1896: "All our meetings for worship and discipline have been regularly held. The hour nearly observed, no unbecoming behavior. Love and unity are maintained, tale bearing and detraction discouraged. No differences to report."

Narberth Dentist's Office Robbed of Gold Friday

Dr. T. Monroe Rees, dentist, with offices in the Narberth National Bank Building, reported to the Lower Merion police last Friday that entry had been made into his office during the noon hour and dental gold valued at $75 stolen.

As it was Armistice Day the bank was closed. It is believed that the robbery was carefully planned. The lock on the door was forced, Dr. Rees reported. Lower Merion police are investigating the case.

Mr. Vogel, is commonly criticized. Maurice Ravel, one of the moderns, probably is not understood as he should be, but is now considered by many as the world's greatest composer. Modern music, he said, should be heard as well as that of the old masters, for if there is an attempt on the part of audiences to suppress it, they stop the progress of art.

Mr. Vogel also spoke on the commercialization of music, telling of the great benefit of the radio programs to authors, musicians and composers, who are protected by copyright, and also by belonging to the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers. This society negotiates with the various radio stations and also with the motion picture companies now that music is used so much with the various productions.

Mrs. Burns Best was in charge of the program.

Edward A. Carlson, of Ardmore, a representative of the United Campaign, made a plea for funds for the organizations and told of their great need in Delaware, Montgomery and Philadelphia Counties.

The Art Department will take their Bryn Athyn trip on Wednesday, November 30. Those wishing to attend should meet at the Narberth Station at 1.30 Mrs. Edward Heymann is in charge of the transportation.

Local Movies

"Grand Hotel" is at Egyptian; is Year's Most Discussed Film

At last the year's most talked-of film, "Grand Hotel," comes to the Egyptian. The long awaited filmization of Vicki Baum's sensational novel and play will have its first Main Line, sensibly priced, presentation on Friday and Saturday of this week. Probably no film in recent years has attracted so much attention as this startlingly realistic symbolical study of human nature. Five major stars were assigned the central characterizations. The remarkable cast is headed by Greta Garbo, with John Barrymore, Joan Crawford, Wallace Beery and Lionel Barrymore playing outstanding roles. Lewis Stone and Jean Hersholt are featured in the large supporting cast. Due to the extreme length of "Grand Hotel," it is suggested that the following time schedule be noted. The main presentation will start promptly at 7.10 and 9.15 at the evening performances.

On Monday and Tuesday of next week John Gilbert attempts an out-of-the-ordinary role, for him, in a story of which he is credited with being the author. In this he portrays a villain of the Von Stroheim style, and succeeds quite admirably. The production is titled "Down Stairs," and as added interest, Virginia Bruce, his bride, is seen in support. The cast also includes Paul Lukas and the fascinating Baclanova.

Wednesday and Thursday brings those inimitable assassinations of anguish, Wheeler and Woolsey, in their very newest and funniest laugh-fest, "Hold 'Em Jail." It's a riot of fun from start to finish. There will be a Holiday Matinee on Thursday, Thanksgiving Day.

Coming next week-end is "Love Me Tonight," of which all that need be said to discriminating movie-goers is that it is an Ernst Lubitsch production, starring Maurice Chevalier, Jeannette MacDonald and Charles Ruggles.

Narberth Theatre Notes

"Hat Check Girl," at Narberth this week-end, is a spicy tale of Manhattan high-life. The cast is good: Sally Eilers, Ben Lyon and Ginger Rogers. The story is not recommended for children. At Saturday's matinee the feature is an exciting tale of policemen, recommended for everyone: "Radio Patrol."

Joel McCrea and Fay Wray are worth seeing by all adventure-lovers, in "The Most Dangerous Game," at Narberth next Monday and Tuesday. It's about a Russian nobleman who lures people to his tropical island and matches wits with them in man-hunts, in which they are the intended victims.

Good photography and acting make "Wild Girl" memorable. At the Borough playhouse Wednesday and Thursday, its cast includes Joan Bennett, Charles Farrell, Ralph Bellamy, Eugene Palette and Irving Pichel. Added features include "Gridiron Thrills" and a Mickey Mouse cartoon.

M. L. Orchestra's 1st Concert is Sunday

Arnold Fletcher, 14-Year-Old Pianist, to Play Mozart C Minor Concerto

SYMPHONY ON PROGRAM

M. L. Orchestra's 1st Concert is Sunday

The Main Line Orchestra, Adolph Vogel, Conductor, with seven musicians, will open its eleventh season with the concert at the Ardmore Theatre, this Sunday evening.

Arnold Fletcher, 14-year-old pianist of Upper Darby, will be featured in playing the Mozart C Minor Concerto for piano with orchestra in its entirety. Arnold began the study of the piano at the age of seven and has been a pupil of Miss Rosalie Murray, of the Delaware County School of Music, for the last six years. Miss Murray is a pupil and assistant to Miss Florence Leonard, director of the Main Line School of Music, Ardmore.

Young Fletcher, in addition to his musical accomplishments, is an honor student at Upper Darby Junior High School. He still finds time to indulge in youthful sports, which inclination, however, is overshadowed by an ambition to be a symphony orchestra conductor.

Arnold takes naturally to music, his father, William Fletcher, being a musician of note and conductor of the Fletcher Woodwind Symphonette.

The balance of the Orchestra's program comprises the "Suite for Strings" by Carse, Mozart's "Jupiter" Symphony, and the ever popular "Poet and Peasant" Overture by Von Suppe.

Subscription tickets may be obtained at Azpell's Music Store, Ardmore; Joseph R. Mickle, 104 Union avenue, Bala, and the Elkan-Vogel Co., 1716 Sansom street, Philadelphia.

Kenneth L. M. Pray Tells of Conditions in Germany

Germany's attitude in the face of her great economic problems was explained Tuesday to the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club by Kenneth L. M. Pray, Philadelphia social worker and president of the Narberth School Board.

Mr. Pray, in his recent stay in Germany, was impressed by the cheerfulness of the people in the face of their troubles. The spirit of nationalism, which imbues the whole population, was very evident, he said. Germany is insisting that her country be on an equal plane with the rest of the world.

The speaker also described the relief methods which are being followed, in which the effort is to supply the necessities of life through government aid, without hurting the self-respect of the people.

International Relations Group Discusses League

The International Relations Group of the Women's Community Club of Narberth held a meeting at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Leon Webster Melchor, on Monday afternoon. The subject under discussion was that of the present status of the League of Nations and China.

The next meeting of this group will be held next Monday afternoon, at 2 P. M., at the home of Mrs. Melchor, on Meeting House lane.

The speaker will be Miss Dinkelacker, a medical missionary, who will talk on the political situation in China. She will also tell of her experiences in the air raids in China.

Stamp Club is Formed

Plans for the formation of a Main Line Stamp Club were discussed Tuesday night at an informal meeting of an interested group held at the home of Walter D. Fuller, Penn Valley.

It was decided to organize a club of adult collectors, with meetings held monthly at the homes of members. Collections of various members will be displayed at each gathering.

OF PIPE*Brings Water
to You!

WATER... sparkling water, pure and delicious, comes rushing and gushing out of your faucet... the instant you turn it on.

It comes from "Over the hills, and far away"—through miles and miles of pipe lines that climb to the heights and descend to the valleys. There are big pipes and little pipes. Some pipes are thirty inches in diameter at the pumping stations. Others are as small as six inches in diameter
for use in residential districts.
Altogether, there are more than a thousand miles of these pipes laid in the ground.

Piping, pumping, inspection and care... twenty-four hours a day
are only a few of the many reasons

In the MailbagA. E. Wohlert Answers
Objections to Merger

To the Editor of Our Town:

I would like to ask the privilege of using your space in order to answer Mrs. Jeane Burt, because she seems to be thoroughly mistaken
about the whole merger proposition, and I feel it is quite possible that Mrs. Burt has been badly misinformed.

I will take up one point of her letter at a time. The mergerites hope to bring about a reduction in taxes. That is quite correct and they believe they can prove they will produce such reduction.

As to the community spirit, the community spirit and citizens will remain in Narberth, all of them, I hope. The railroad station will continuously be under the name of Nar-berth, the postoffice will be Narberth and your address will be Narberth, as usual. The community spirit is created by the people and not by the politicians.

Mrs. Burt's understanding is that we are going to lose our zoning ordinance by merging, and I would like to tell Mrs. Burt we have already lost it long ago, if I am not mistaken, four or five years ago. It has never been enforced; it has been a dead letter. If Mrs. Burt cares to get a few particulars on this subject, I would be glad to furnish them. When a zoning ordinance interfered with any influential citizen's convenience or profit it will be nullified in the future, as in the past.

At the present time the Borough
is thrown open to any one who wishes to reside here, and I hope it will always remain so open. In fact, I doubt very much that any local law could change that, whether it be a law created by the Borough authorities or the Township. Any one who wants to move into Narberth is privileged to do so regardless of color.
It could not be stopped, and should not be.

Our Playground is open to all citizens of Lower Merion Township now and has been, ever since it was made.
I would not be surprised if at least 25 per cent of the users of our playgrounds are residents of Lower Merion. I am reasonably certain that the tennis courts are used at least as much by Lower Merion as they are by Narberth people. It is not necessary to show a tax receipt nor a certificate of registration in Narberth before you are permitted to play on these playgrounds. The grounds are open to all without any restrictions,
and that is the way it should be.

I notice also that Mrs. Burt suggests that the mergerites move into the Township if they preferred conditions there. Well, that may be a good idea, but it is really not the American way of doing it. If we are not satisfied with the conditions
as they exist, we vote for a change and if we can convince enough people that a change would be desirable
we are going to get it. I would like Mrs. Burt to remember the recent election when the Republican party was so thoroughly snowed under that if you look upon a map prepared to illustrate the immensity of the upheaval, it will practically seem that no one supported the present administration, yet I have not heard any Democrat suggest to the Republicans that they leave the country. It is up to us to stay and put our shoulder to the wheel and help.

Mrs. Burt accuses those who desire the merger of selfishness or desire for political advancement, or that their children may attend some other school. Be that as it may, that is not one of my reasons. I cannot see how I could benefit in any manner other than reduction of taxes and I do not think a citizen or taxpayer is selfish because he intends to advance the interests of his children.
It is very plainly his duty, plain and simple, and it is most unkind to accuse your opponents of selfish motives. Narberth School may be just as good as those in Lower Merion, and they may indeed be better, but that is not a part of the argument.

As to the conditions of the streets in the Borough and those of Lower Merion Township, no streets of Lower Merion are in bad condition except those that are privately owned and they will not be taken over by the Township unless they are improved 100 per cent and acceptable absolutely and entirely to the Township authorities and paid for in full by the abutting property owners. Several streets in Anthwyn Farms are in that condition. They are privately owned,
and if and when they are improved,
it will be done at the abutting property owners' expense. The Township will not accept a street for dedication even if it is improved, unless it is sixty per cent occupied, or just about that.

Returning to the mergerites again
and Mrs. Burt's fifth paragraph, newcomers have exactly as much right as older residents and generations. I happen to be one of the older generation, having lived in Narberth
for approximately twenty-five years.
There are no two classes of citizens
in Narberth, nor anywhere else.
Whether we have lived here one year or twenty-five years makes no difference. Whatever I may have done in the interest of Narberth in the past is no more than I would have done
if I had lived in the Township. It is simply a community interest.

As to Mrs. Burt's request that some citizens in Narberth suggest some means which we may avert this disaster, it is really quite unnecessary for Mrs. Burt to be annoyed. There won't be any disaster; things will move just about as usual, conditions will not change materially. Taxes will probably be lower, but the same community spirit will prevail. The playground will continue to be used by all who care to use it; the Postoffice and station will retain its name.

One further advantage in the merger that has not been previously pronounced is that Narberth in place of having control as it has now of only Narberth Borough, will be able to control all of the surrounding territory by its compact vote, and if I were a political power in the Township I would have some very solid misgivings about the results on that score, as there is no doubt no matter how they would split up Nar-berth's voting precincts, the Narberth vote will control the entire surroundings. The only change will be, we will not have a Borough Council nor a Burgess, but for each voting precinct we will have a commissioner
seated in Lower Merion Township Commissioners Council.

G. W. Elliott Addresses
Annual Post Banquet*Underlying Principles of Government Stressed in Talk*WM. DURBIN PRESIDES

"A government can never be greater than the spirit of its people," said George W. Elliott, former Director of Public Safety of Philadelphia, in quoting George Washington at the annual banquet of the Harold D. Speakman Post, American Legion, of Narberth, held last Friday night in the Community Building.

In his talk, Mr. Elliott, whose sincerity impressed itself upon his hearers, was concerned with the great principles underlying the American government. Surface things, he said, take up too much of our thought. He stressed the importance of intelligence, education and an intimate knowledge of the processes of government as a means of creating an atmosphere where the underlying principles of government are in the foreground. "America cannot afford to raise a race of men who do not think in terms of their government," he declared.

Mr. Elliott touched on various problems of government, including the cost of crime and the adolescent problem.
He cited the home life of America as one of its greatest assets.

Now secretary of the Philadelphia
Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Elliott was introduced by W. Russell Green.
The banquet, attended by a good-sized gathering, was presided over by William H. Durbin, new commander of the Post.

The past commander's medal was presented to John A. Mowrer, Jr., by Harry A. Simpson.

A recitation of James Whitcomb Riley's poem, "Good-bye Jim," was given by Robert H. Durbin, father of the Post commander.

Henry Doll, Narberth's sole surviving Civil War veteran, was introduced to the gathering and responded with a few words.

Past commanders of the Post who were present also took a bow. They included Mr. Simpson, Mr. Mowrer,
Mr. Green, Robert C. Collins, Arthur
L. Cooke and Arthur W. Burns.
Entertainment was provided by Harry Taylor, songster, and John Devlin, funster.

According to Commander Durbin,
the annual banquet is the opening gun in a year which is expected to be full of activity for the Narberth Post.
Many prominent speakers are promised for Legion meetings and worthwhile activities.

A Milestone Always Helps

Now that the Election is over let's get on with our knitting!

For many months, reaching a crescendo in the past few days, we have heard much—TALK.

That is behind us now. The result is known. Winner and loser alike may rejoice in one fact: We are free now to go forward with action to improve conditions, to recognize the betterment which already has been effected and to build upon it steadily and purposefully.

Politics has its time and place. It has had both recently, almost to the exclusion of more important concerns. Now it is time for working and planning and building. And there is plenty of room.

A milestone is helpful. Let's move on to the next one!

LOWER MERION'S 1932 FOOTBALL SQUAD

Charles Weygandt, head linesman in the Penn-Ohio State game last Saturday was just elected Chief Justice of the Ohio State Supreme Court. We wonder if Chief Charles used the gavel to punctuate his decisions, and if a player disagreed with him, would he be accused of contempt of court?

The Inter-Academic League is in an interesting knot with Friends' Central, Penn Charter and Germantown Academy holding the advantage due to two or more victories and only one loss each in the loop. Two remaining games for each school will carry the interest and doubts of the followers of each to the last minute of the last quarter of the season.

This column wishes to thank Mrs. Florence M. Irwin, of Derwen road, Cynwyd, and W. I. Simpson, of Merion, for their contributions on the Lower Merion football scores, et cetera, during the years of 1915 and 1916.

HOW ABOUT THE YEARS PRIOR TO NINETEEN FIFTEEN? WE NEED SCORES OF GAMES IN THOSE EARLIER YEARS. PLEASE AND THANK YOU.

Come on you Old Timers. Snap into it.

The Radnor-Lower Merion classic of football will probably erase from the minds of local fans the fact that there are other games being played throughout the nation. Here's picking a few winners for you few readers who wish to check on my inability to pick winners:

Villanova will defeat Temple.
Harvard will outsmart Yale.
Stanford will win from California.
Minnesota may lick Michigan.
Lafayette will nose out Lehigh.
Purdue will nose out Indiana.
Auburn will take Georgia.
Duke will defeat North Carolina.
Swarthmore vs. Dickinson. On a hunch it's Swarthmore.
Radnor will outsmart Lower Merion.

Haverford Wins First
Haverford College shocked the world last Saturday by scoring the first touchdown of the season to win from Washington College, 7 to 6. Substitute Patton went into the game after Pleasant's six-point jaunt to dropkick the point that won the game. A long pass from Tiernan to Wilson put the ball in position for Pleasants to take over.

Tommy's Locker Room Talk to the Boys

Well, fellows, here we are. A year ago you had the ball on Radnor's goal line four times and DID NOT TAKE IT OVER. No alibi in the world can erase that fact. YOU DID NOT take it over. You ran up the enormous total of eighteen first downs to Radnor's three. You had the strength but you failed your coach and you failed your school and friends.

This is another year. You have unbounded strength. You have shown a versatile and powerful offensive in your games so far, but you HAVE NOT PROVED YOURSELF.

Abington was a tough nut to crack, but Radnor matched you, score for score. Norristown was weak in comparison, as we knew before the game, in spite of much ballyhoo from the Blue and White territory. The other teams on your schedule have been mere set-ups. Now come the two games of the season which will test your true mettle. If you have COURAGE you will carry that ball across the Radnor goal line tomorrow. If you are a REAL FOOTBALL TEAM nothing under heaven can stop you. If you are a bunch of quitters give the ball to Jim Davis' scrubs. They'll win the game on fight alone. Now get out of this locker room and FIGHT.

Weak Upper Darby Team Bows to Lower Merion 45-6

Lower Merion's grid machine continued on its victory march the past week by defeating a weak Upper Darby High eleven, 45 to 6. Three touchdowns by Harvey Buek and six-pointers by Zengel, Iocavelli, Coffman and Johnson, coupled with three points after touchdown, gave the locals an easy victory.

This game marks the twelfth in the series started between the two schools in 1931, and Upper Darby has never yet won from the Maroon and White. Ellwood Smith will stand out in this game as the only Upper Darby High player to cross the Lower Merion goal line, and incidentally the second player to do that difficult thing this season. The game was too one-sided to be particularly interesting. The coaches constantly substituted players in order to give a maximum number the opportunity to play.

Long runs featured the game, several by Harvey Buek of over twenty yards, and one or two by Iocavelli, Zengel, Sautters and Coffman. The game offered a good opportunity for the players to get in shape for their most difficult meeting of the year, the Radnor game at Villanova Stadium tomorrow.

Lower Merion and Radnor Meet at Villanova Saturday

intercepted a pass and ran almost the length of the field to slide over the goal line for the winning six points after the watch had ticked off the last second of the game.

A tie game, 12 to 12, was the result two years ago, the first time the meeting was staged at Villanova Stadium. Last year Pennypacker Field witnessed a 14 to 0 setback for the Maroon and White.

And tomorrow's game will bring new thrills, create new heroes, make more boys into men, for this battle of all battles is a test of courage, a challenge to fitness of body and strength of mind.

Here's to the gladiators, the Red of Radnor and the Maroon of Lower Merion. May the fittest win!

Boy's Club Wins Again; to Play on Thanksgiving

Coach Art Cooke's Narberth Boys' Club won its sixth straight game by defeating the strong West Park eleven, 18-6, before a large, nearly-frozen crowd. In the first quarter Torchiana recovered the visitors' fumble on their 13-yard line and Aigledinger on two right end runs crossed for the first goal. Bob Harris, whose punting was a feature of the game, kicked for the extra point. Before the half ended Harris passed from the 40-yard line to O'Keefe for another touchdown. Narberth's final tally came when a punt was returned forty yards by McGarry. West Park's touchdown was the result of a pass.

Coach Cooke feels his players, some of whom are injured, will be in good condition for their tussle with the strong Ardmore Ramblers, Thanksgiving morning.

Rally Tonight

A Lower Merion rally for students and supporters of the Maroon will be held this Friday evening in the Senior High School auditorium

L. M.-Radnor Dance

A joint Lower Merion-Radnor dance will be held tomorrow night in the Brookline Country Club. This is the first time that the two schools have united for a social occasion following the annual football game. Two orchestras will furnish continuous music. Tickets for the affair may be purchased at either school or at the door.

Over 4000 Garments Contributed to Guild

at 2 P. M. by the President, Mrs. A. H. Durboraw, which was opened by an impressive devotional service in charge of Mrs. Clarence T. Woolmington.

Mrs. C. A. Senft favored the appreciative audience with a most beautiful solo. She was accompanied by the church organist, Miss Margaret Squier.

The speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Fowler, of Broomall, Pa., who gave an interesting and informative address concerning the work being done at the Home for Convalescents.

The Guild is especially conscious of the support of its contributors under existing conditions and concludes the year's work with a deep sense of gratification.

The Arcadia Restaurant offers to save all trouble of cooking, by inviting folks to dine out; it advertises a very attractive menu at a moderate price, for Thanksgiving Day.

Davis' Store has some novelties and sweets of interest for Thanksgiving and plans are being made for a big display of Christmas gifts and necessities.

then cited the saving that had been effected through the reduction in fire hydrant rentals, the reduction in the cost of garbage collection in four years from $4800 to $1400. The work of the Board of Health was mentioned, Mr. Hall pointing out that its budget of $2450 was very little exceeded this year despite the infantile paralysis outbreak last summer and the legal obligation of the Borough to care for such cases. He also cited the tremendous reduction that had been effected in the bacteria count in ice cream sold in the Borough, which, before the ordinance governing it went into effect, was as high as 700,000, while the count was now down to 5,000. Mr. Hall related how he had endeavored to get through an appropriation which would permit increased candle power in street lights in the Borough, but that the Finance Committee, ever watchful of expenditures, had turned it down. "There are some things the average citizens don't consider," he concluded.

Daniel Leitch, president of Council, who welcomed the citizens at the beginning of the meeting, gave vent to the statement that "I've sat here for 15 years, but never have seen any people come to find out how things are done." A similar view was expressed by Burgess Henry A. Frye, who prefaced his remarks by saying he had intended to keep out of the discussion. "I have yet to see the session of Council when a single citizen has stayed after 9 P. M.," he declared.

Welcoming the residents as an evidence of a new spirit of citizenship, the Burgess pointed out the two current opinions, both of which he branded as erroneous. "Councilmen," he said, "think the citizens don't care and citizens think that the Councilmen are unfair." Mr. Frye urged that citizens come before Council with a concrete recommendation of how a tax rate could be cut more than two mills. If it is not accepted he pointed out they could have recourse at the polls next Spring and elect Councilmen who shared their views.

C. A. S. McClellan, a former Councilman and resident of the Borough for 41 years, expressed himself as willing to leave the fixing of the tax rate in the hands of Council.

A similar opinion was expressed by Mrs. John B. Brooks, a Borough resident for 14 years.

Mrs. Margaret G. Town opined that a cut of 10 to 20 per cent. could be made.

John Albrecht, nursery owner, engaged in a verbal tilt with members of Council over his assessments and whether or not the Borough would collect waste from his nursery as is done from the Haverford avenue stores.

W. W. Heindell expressed dissatisfaction with his assessments and was told to appeal to the County Board, that Council had no authority over them.

Mrs. Eberhardt Mueller signified her confidence in Council by stating that, "I wouldn't be able to do better if I were spending my own money."

No action was taken on the 1933 budget at the meeting. It will be introduced on first reading at the next meeting of Council on December 12.

Anderson, Zimmerman to Speak at Boy's Club Tues.

William H. Anderson, coach of the Lower Merion High School basketball team, and William Zimmerman recently elected Representative in the State Legislature from the Third District, will be the speakers at a meeting of the Narberth Boys' Club to be held Tuesday evening in the Legion room of the Community Building.

All boys are invited to attend, as are fathers and others who are interested in the work of the club.

BUSINESS BITS

Many money-saving suggestions for Thanksgiving Dinner are made in Cotter's Market at this week. As usual, Mr. Cotter sets the pace for Narberth's food buying.

Miss Elizabeth Durbin calls attention in an ad this week to some of the many Christmas gifts that discriminating buyers are selecting now. They include toilet articles, jewelry, etc., and the latest fad—a very practical one: knitted wear. Very stylish, and very costly if bought ready-made, are the long-wearing tweed coats with raglan sleeves, which can be had inexpensively, following Miss Durbin's direction, with the Columbia tweed yarn which she is selling at her home on Narberth avenue, just below Woodbine.

THE FIRESIDE

New residents here are the E. A. Whittings, at 29 Narbrook Park.

Miss Patty Krauskop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Krauskop, of Wynndale avenue, entertained ten of her friends at a dinner party on Monday evening in honor of her seventh birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Millard Dickie, 301 Grayling avenue, are being congratulated on the birth of a daughter, born Tuesday, November 15.
